

PRESIDENT STANDS "PAT" ON DECISION

MUST BE UNALTERABLE POSITION OF UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

Makes Reply to Appeal From President Porras of Panama Who Describes Position As Painful and Humiliating--Text of Notes of Executives Made Public.

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 19.—The decision of Chief Justice White in the Panama-Costa Rica boundary dispute "must be the unalterable position of the United States government," President Harding declared today in reply to a personal appeal from President Porras of Panama.

Altho he expressed regret that Panama should feel wounded by the White decision, described in Senor Porras' message as "painful and humiliating," Mr. Harding declined to consider any other basis of settlement.

The exchange between the two executives made public textually tonight, was in the nature of an ad interim discussion while the state department awaited Panama's reply to its note. Costa Rica already has accepted the White award.

In making his appeal, President Porras recalled the expressions of friendship for Panama given by Mr. Harding last November, during his visit there as president-elect, and voiced a hope that the Panamanian people might not be disappointed in their faith in the new administration at Washington.

Harding stands Pat. To this President Harding replied by renewing his avowals of cordiality, but added that the exercise of friendly relations always must be tempered by justice. Before replying to President Porras, Mr. Harding had a long conference today with Secretary Hughes. It is understood that they not only went over in detail the latest information regarding the situation, but also discussed the broad questions of policy involved in a final determination of the position taken by the government.

President Porras' Message.
"Demand from state department that my government would accept White's decision is painful and humiliating. More so when two successive legislatures and all the municipalities in the republic have petitioned for the rejection of that decision. On the ground that the arbitrator notoriously exceeded its jurisdiction, giving to Costa Rica more than what her representatives asked from President Loubet, and also because it is against the provisions of Panama's constitution."

"The communications from our state department to the government of Panama and the government of Costa Rica have been sent with the full knowledge and hearty approval of the executive."

"It would be exceedingly disingenuous to me to believe that the government of Panama had cause to feel wounded or to assume for any reason the government of the United States is in any way unmindful of our peculiar friendly relationship with a recognized mutuality of interest. The friendly expressions made in your presence informally, last November, are repeated now, and there is deep concern for full justice in the exercise of our friendly relationship. It must be apparent, however, that the decision of the chief justice of the United States, in an arbitration submitted to him and reached after exhaustive study and rendered in fullest devotion to justice, must be the unalterable position of this government."

REVOLUTION HAS BEEN STARTED

(By The Associated Press)
EL PASO, Texas, March 19.—Press despatches from Las Noticias, a newspaper printed in Mexico City, received in El Paso today, tell of the formation of a revolution in Mexico headed by Luis Cabrera, the man with the brains behind Carranza's government, and his brother, Alfonso, and Ignacio Bonillas, former representative to the United States. The despatch said the brothers had put up $8,000,000 pesos to finance the movement which was started in the mountains of Puebla, principally among the Indians. General Gabriel, also is mentioned in despatches as helping to provide the money for the plot. It is reported that he rebels hope to make Luis Cabrera president.

NO BEER SOLD AT SODA FOUNTAINS SAY OFFICIALS

Ailing Patients Can't Get Beer Except by Prescription

PROHIBITIONISTS SAY MAYBE NOT AT ALL

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 19.—The sign since displayed in the dining room of a North Carolina hotel announcing that to prevent guests taking fruit from the table there would be no fruit, about expresses the view of dry leaders in congress with respect to the new ruling as to medicinal beer.

"If beer is to be prescribed in any quantity for everybody who is ailing, there will be no beer," house prohibitionists opined. Several members including some who worked for enactment of the Volstead law and who believe it ought to be tightened up, declared today that former Attorney General Palmer rightly construed the act in holding that beer like liquor could be prescribed for a sick man. But they added that they were awaiting with deep concern publication of prohibition regulations prescribing the manner and amount of beer dispensation.

While the Volstead act limits the amount of whiskey that may be prescribed there is no provision dealing with beer.

Predictions are made by several prohibition members that the future policy of congress will depend on a beer tryout. They see no likelihood of any early change in the law by which a physician might prescribe not more than a pint of whiskey in any ten day period.

No Beer at Soda Fountains
Prohibition enforcement officials declare they are not responsible for the idea that has spread over the country that the new regulations will permit the sale and drinking of a glass of beer at a drug store fountain. There is not a chance, drugists there will be permitted to handle it on bona fide prescriptions.

In connection with publication of the department of justice ruling it has developed that the anti-saloon league will renew its fight to eliminate from the Volstead law the provision relating to sale of liquor by prescription and that its guns will be opened again.

Meanwhile the scramble continues for places on the house judiciary committee, which may settle the beer issue definitely and attempt to tighten up all the loose joints in the Volstead law. There are eight vacancies. If all the seats were given to wet committee members, the committee still would be dry but Republican leaders asserted that the party in making up the committee assignments would take no backward step on the question of prohibition.

AMERICANS EAT LESS MEAT IN 1920

WASHINGTON, March 19.—The American people ate ten pounds less meat per capita last year than during 1918, according to figures made public today by the department of agriculture.

Less meat was produced, less exported and less consumed in 1920 than in either of the two preceding years the announcement said. Beef consumption has fallen from 78 pounds ten years ago to not quite 56 1-2 pounds per head of population last year. Veal was said to be gaining steadily in favor.

MOTHER OF VIRGIL DECKER VISITS HER SON FOR FIRST TIME

Self Confessed Murderer Tells Mother Not to Worry

EXPECT TO CALL SPECIAL GRAND JURY

(By The Associated Press)
WARSAW, Ind., March 19.—Mrs. Lydia Decker, mother of Virgil Decker, 18, who has signed a confession in which he declares that he alone was responsible for the death of LeRoy Lovett, his Elkhart, Ind., chum, was permitted for the first time today to visit her son since his arrest at Marion, Ind., last Tuesday.

Mrs. Decker was admitted to the cell where Virgil is held on a charge of murder. She was accompanied by Mrs. C. B. Moon, wife of the county sheriff. Mrs. Moon, by reminding Virgil of some of his religious training and by motherly care of the boy since his incarceration, is credited with assisting officers in obtaining the confession the boy signed early today.

EMPLOYEES SIDE TO BE HEARD BY DAVIS

Will Hear What Their Representatives Have to Say—Has Already Heard Packers' Side.

(By The Associated Press)

Dennis Lane, secretary of the employees' union, and R. S. Brennan, their attorney, will represent the workers.

GERMANY SHOWED LACK OF GOOD WILL

Italian Minister of Foreign Affairs Says Her Offer Not as Much as Italy Will Pay Allies in Next Forty-Two Years.

(By The Associated Press)
ROME, March 19.—By A. P. Germany's offer at the recent reparations conference in London to pay 20,000,000,000 gold marks in 30 years, Count Storza, the minister of foreign affairs, told the chamber of deputies, did not amount to as much as Italy would have to pay the allies in the next forty-two years on account of war loans.

"Her counter proposals," he said, "were not worthy of consideration; she seemed to be negotiating a transaction favorable to herself, instead of offering indemnity to the allies. Altho the allies acted with great forbearance, Germany showed a manifest lack of good will."

NEED SEVENTEEN BILLIONS TO RUN THE GOVERNMENT

New Secretary Says it is Greatest Task Ever Undertaken

CHANGE IN TARIFF SYSTEM NEEDED

(By The Associated Press)
PITTSBURGH, Pa., March 19.—Something like seventeen billions of dollars must be provided by the federal government within the next thirty months to meet its running expense and refunding operations Secretary Weeks of the war department declared tonight in an address before the Pittsburgh chamber of commerce.

"This," the secretary said, "is an infinitely greater task than was ever undertaken by any nation in the world in time of peace and there is no one, skilled in financial operations who he may be, who does not view the prospect with more or less alarm."

"With this situation facing us it is the height of folly to undertake new commitments if they can be avoided."

The war secretary discussed economy in government operations, recognition of federal activities in Washington, taxation and the tariff. He urged repeal of the excess profits tax, declaring that in a period of rising prices it was not an effective tax.

Must Make Radical Change.
Turning to the tariff, Mr. Weeks said the country had reached a point where it must make a radical change in its tariff system.

New problems associated with rates of exchange, growing out of the war made the tariff a more complicated question than usual, he said adding that it would seem to him that the amount of revenue which would be produced from imports would be between five and six hundred millions of dollars a year. Whatever may be determined, the secretary continued, "it would seem to me the duties imposed should be based on the normal rate of exchange and that the secretary of the treasury would have power to change the rates of duty to correspond to any material change in the rate of exchange."

"Our first purpose in the past and now has been to provide for our own needs in revenue and protection, but in framing a new tariff law, we must give some consideration if for no other than the most selfish reasons to our markets. To impose a greater duty than the ordinary difference in the cost of production would mean destroying the possibility of European markets, especially where the rate of exchange is such that they cannot purchase from us except under the greatest stress."

WHEAT SUPPLIES NOT EXCESSIVE

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Wheat supplies in the United States are "not excessive," specialists of the bureau of markets announced today, in spite of the stock of 320,000,000 bushels reported on hand. Of this amount 40,000,000 bushels were imported from Canada, the announcement said.

From the stock on hand, it was estimated, there must be deducted the requirements for consumption and seed, placed at 200,000,000 bushels, probable exports of 80,000,000 bushels, leaving a carry over on July 1, of 4,000,000 bushels.

OLD WORLD NEEDS AMERICA'S ASSISTANCE

New York, March 19.—America's powerful assistance and inspiration must be given to the old world to enable it to recover its former healthy status, declared A. F. Wallenberg, new minister of Sweden to this country in an address at the annual dinner of the Swedish chamber of commerce tonight. Touching on importance of friendly relations between nations to develop the world's commercial life he asserted the difference in temperament between various countries and with them must be improved and corrected.

EXPLOSION OF GRAIN DUST WRECKS LARGE CONCRETE ELEVATOR

Structure Was Completely Destroyed and One Man Killed—Others May be in Ruins

—Windows Within a Radius of a Mile Are Broken—Four Men Are Still Missing

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, March 19.—An explosion of grain dust rocked the entire southern section of Chicago early tonight, wrecked one of the world's largest grain elevators and broke every window within a radius of a mile.

Of nine watchmen trapped in the structure by the blast one is known to be dead and four are missing. The elevator, which consisted of a series of steel and concrete towers, was built at a cost of more than $10,000,000 and was operated by the Armour Grain company.

The explosion was due, it was said by officials, to a fire that started in a loading chute. The blaze set fire to the dust filled air and the resulting blast rent asunder the big tower releasing thousands of bushels of grain.

So great was the force of the explosion that it hurled great concrete blocks for hundreds of feet and derailed a freight train standing on a side track beside the elevator. Up until a late hour tonight only one body had been taken from the ruins. Four others are known to have escaped.

Heavy Damage Results.
Heavy damage was caused in nearby towns. Windows were shattered in Hammond, Whiting and East Chicago. The heaviest sufferer was Whiting, where it was reported every window in the downtown business district was broken. The property loss there, according to merchants, will reach $100,000.

There was only about 100,000 bushels of grain in the elevator. This was destroyed by fire.

The explosion took place just after 150 employees had quit for the day. According to one eyewitness, there were three separate explosions, the last being the most severe. The explosions tore off the entire top of the elevator. This was of light steel concrete construction and was designed so that in case of an explosion the force of the blast would be spent thru the upper part of the elevator.

So great was the force of the blast that the tower itself was shattered. Early estimates put the property loss at $7,000,000.

Passengers on the Cork and Bandon railway line witnessed a thrilling pursuit in which many civilians were seen to fall, the remainder being put to full flight. The entire district is in a state of ferment.

It may be a hard lesson for Panama but the little republic down there had just as well find out in the beginning that the policy of the present administration will be both firm and just.

Mr. Miller of the department of education does not believe that the plan of making the school distributive fund $20,000,000 is fair to the tax payers. While this position will not be satisfactory to all the people, the majority will approve. Four years ago the distributive fund was $4,000,000 and a $10,000,000 fund for this year sounds like a substantial increase.

Figures as to the distributive fund are illuminating as they show that 54 counties pay into the fund $821,000 more than they receive and 47 counties receive $490,000 more than they pay thru taxation.

The farmers who are inclined to be gloomy over the lower prices for farm products have reason to take heart over the announced determination of the administration to speedily do something in their behalf. Several methods have been suggested and out of the group suggested one will be adopted. This feeling of hopefulness should be increased from the fact that Mr. Hoover, with his knowledge of world markets and affairs, is intensely interested in co-operating thru his department to bring about the conditions that the agricultural department declares are so emphatically needed.

THE D. A. R. AND ITS GOOD WORK

Jacksonville will extend a cordial welcome to the Daughters of the American Revolution who come to the 25th state convention here this week. All parts of the state will be represented and the membership of the organization is such that it is certain this will be a notable gathering of women. The purposes of the D. A. R. are lofty. The organization seeks to increase patriotism and to magnify those ideals which make for American greatness. The methods used to inculcate and promote patriotism are practical and the good results have been proven with the passage of the years.

During the war period the D. A. R. in various special ways made its distinct contribution and it is not too much to say that both the foundation and the superstructure of the organization are such that it will continue thru all the years a potent American influence for lighting and keeping burning the fires of patriotism.

STATE POLICE

The senate committee on public welfare has allowed the representative of organized Illinois manufacturers to have spread on the minutes the notation that he is against the bill for state police as it has been recommended to the senate. The bill thus provides that the state police can be used in industrial controversies only upon the order of the governor, as is the case with the organized state militia.

That indicates the purpose of the bill. It is to create an instrument of public safety which can be used in rural districts and make as good use of good roads in catching robbers as the robbers can make of them in getting away.

The bill sticks to its main purpose and will bear all the scrutiny that labor unions, which are likely to be instinctively opposed, want to give it. The unreasonable employers have been disposed of and labor has no right to be unreasonable in turn. The state needs the state police for protection. —Chicago Daily Tribune.

PREPARE CORN SPECIAL.

The Chicago & Alton officials are preparing the corn contributed for Europe in such a manner that it will move in one special train to Chicago. As soon as word has been received that there is enough cars loaded to make a train, the corn will be started, probably out of Springfield and Jacksonville, and pick up all cars and haul them to Bloomington to be combined into one train there. Starting from there the train will pick up all additional cars between that city and Chicago. The company furnishes the engines and cars and the employees volunteer to handle the train. There will be no time slips turned in by anyone connected with the movement. The company now has a long list of volunteers who are ready to handle the train whenever it is operated. Word has been received that the cars are being loaded at various points and as soon as loading is completed, the train will move. One of the lines out of Chicago will take the cars to the seaboard. —Illinois State Journal.

MRS. FRED BAPTIST STRUCK BY AUTOMOBILE

Leo Hegarty and William Shields were driving in an automobile from East Court street into the square Saturday when their car came into collision with Mrs. Fred Baptist, who was knocked to the pavement. The car traveled not more than 15 feet after the accident when both young men hurried to Mrs. Baptist's assistance and she was assisted into the Schmalz store for first aid.

Mr. Shields called Dr. A. M. King, who arrived speedily and found that men at the request of Mrs. Baptist had her taken to her family physician, Dr. W. P. Duncan, where a second examination was made and no injuries found other than light bruises.

Witnesses declare that the happening seemed unavoidable and the young men who paid the physicians charges were certainly most solicitous in their efforts to be of all possible service.

OLDEST ORCHESTRA COMING TO CITY

A Guarantee Fund New York Philharmonic Will Fill One of Two Illinois Engagements in Jacksonville.

One of the most important musical announcements ever made in Jacksonville is that the New York Philharmonic orchestra will appear at the opera house in the city May 25. This great organization which is America's oldest orchestra, is now in its seventy-ninth season, and the people of Jacksonville and surrounding territory are indebted to Mrs. Helen Brown Read and Mr. H. W. Pearson, under whose joint management the orchestra will appear here.

The orchestra is making a coast to coast tour, but will appear for only two performances in the state of Illinois. In order to secure the coming of this great organization, a list of guarantors was secured, each agreeing to pay $20 toward a fund if there is a deficit. Neither Mrs. Read nor Mr. Pearson will make any money from the project, the only hope being from the sale of tickets to secure a fund sufficient to meet the expense.

The guarantors are Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Russell, Miss Russell, Mrs. W. Barry Brown, R. W. Woolston, Mrs. Vorce Bassett, Miss Carrie Dunlap, E. E. Crabtree, Mrs. Helen Brown Read, Mrs. A. R. Gregory, Miss Eleanor Moore, Mrs. E. F. Buillard, G. B. Andre, Albert C. Metcalf, Joseph R. Harker, Henry Ward Pearson, John Kearns, J. P. Brown Music Co., W. T. Brown Music Co., J. A Bit of History

The seventy-ninth year of uninterrupted civic and musical service is now before the Philharmonic. This season finds America's oldest symphonic institution with an unparalleled tradition of musical history-making as its background, and eager in its purpose to fulfill for the future avowed intention of the Society's founders to produce "a number of concerts each year of a much higher order than have ever been given in the city." As James Gibbons Huneker, the distinguished critic has said, "The history of the Philharmonic Orchestra is the history of music in America."

The New York Philharmonic is the third oldest organization of its kind in the world, only the London Philharmonic and the Vienna Philharmonic having been organized previously. It is also noted for having the longest list of famous conductors of any orchestra. On its record pages are names that stand out in the musical development of Europe and America—names that read like a hall—of fame in musical history. Its first conductor of international fame was Carl Bergmann, who was a pioneer in introducing the music of Wagner to symphonic audiences in this country. Theodore Thomas, whom all American revere as the man who did more to spread the love of good music in this land than any other person, was conductor of the Philharmonic for many years. After Theodore Thomas came Anton Seidl, for four years Wagner's private secretary. At the time of Seidl's death he had been conductor of the Philharmonic for eight years. Among other famous conductors who have wielded the baton over this famous institution are Colonne, Wassyly, Safonoff, Henry Wood, Gustav Mahler, and now, of course, Josef Stransky.

The Philharmonic has gradually extended its activities until now the members of the orchestra devote practically all their time to the work of the organization. Rehearsals are held daily during the season and about sixty concerts are given by the Society in New York and Brooklyn, in addition to which tours including over twenty cities are made every year.

Tearle has added to the long list of great screen characterizations, one more, which will take its well deserved place in the foremost ranks.

Thru an invention for the purpose of making use of waste steel, Matthews is lifted from sordid surroundings to a life of ease and luxury. He employs a young woman of one of society's foremost families, who is in need of money to help him acquire the polish and education lack of which he so keenly feels. The young woman, desiring his money, tries to inveigle him into a marriage with her, but this fails, and he marries the girl of his choice, even tho she has confessed he does not possess her love. However, when the final close-up is flashed on the screen it finds Bill Matthews having the love of a good and beautiful wife.

The New Selznick Star and Actor of Experience, in

The Road of Ambition

By Elaine Sterne

"THE ROAD OF AMBITION," the new Selznick Picture starring Conway Tearle, is intended to light the flame of hope in the breasts of the ambitious. It is a picture of the rise of a laborer to great heights in the world of finance and high society.

Bill Matthews, played by Conway Tearle, is an ambitious laborer in the steel mills of Bethlehem. His greatest ambition is to perfect a process by which waste steel might be utilized. Through perseverance and hard work he finally realizes his ambitions, and becomes a great factor in the steel world. He is hampered, however, by his poor education, and he hires a woman of one of society's foremost families, in need of money, to help him acquire the polish and veneer of the well-bred, which he finds so essential. She tries to force him into a marriage with her, but this fails, and he marries the girl of his choice. She, however, does not love her handsome husband, but simply marries him to save her father from financial ruin. She quickly realizes in him the true nobility and goodness of his character, and learns to love him.

RECOGNITION OF
MINE WORKERS IS NOT OBLIGATORY

This is Statement Made by Governor Kilby of Alabama

BOTH SIDES SPENT
MILLIONS IN STRIKE

(By The Associated Press)
MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 19.—Recognition of the United Mine Workers of America is not obligatory upon the coal operators of Alabama and the day wage scale and sub-contract system are to remain unchanged under the award announced today by Governor Thomas E. Wilby, sole arbiter in the strike.

The governor also declares that existing methods of adjusting grievances are found to be fair and equitable. It is also declared that the operators are under no obligation to re-employ the striking miners but the recommendation is made to the operators that they re-employ the unemployed men who struck as a means of promoting peace and harmony.

The award says that the freedom of contract shall be inviolate and that agreements may be entered into by mutual consent. The governor recommends that since this strike was wrongfully and without the slightest justification called, the organization of the United Mine Workers of America is responsible for the present strikers being without employment and that therefore the organization should support the strikers until they find work. Becomes Operative Immediately.

The award becomes operative immediately under an agreement reached with both the miners and the operators to abide by the governor's findings. Embodied in the decision given out by Governor Kilby was the complete report of his personal representatives in the strike situation. These were W. T. Sheehan, editor; Richard Hobbs, wholesale grocer and John W. Durr, wholesale druggist, all of Montgomery.

The committee in its report declared that in all mines visited the miners expressed themselves satisfied with living conditions and wage scales.

Both sides spent millions of dollars in the strike and the report and both sides seemed to have plenty of money. The committee added that the places of the strikers were filled and that the mines at the time of their visit were producing more coal than the demand could absorb.

The committee said leaders of the strikers had said that while they could still hope for recognition of the union they recognized that under conditions which had come into existence they could not expect recognition for the United Mine Workers of America and that the committee could not afford to recommend the "closed shop."

Walk a Block
And Save a Dollar

How many times have you seen this sign on billboards, in the newspaper, on stationery? Why do you suppose we use it? What does it mean? There is a reason for everything and there is a reason for these words. They tell you that a furniture store—a good furniture store—because it is located on a street that does not demand high rent (which is called overhead expense)—invites you to come and buy your furniture at a lower price than you can get it elsewhere. Men walk considerable distance to get their favorite smoke and women all have their favorite "shops" which handle distinctly feminine things. A good many people, however, do not figure out that it is the dollar saved that means a bank account saved in the end. It is such places as THE PEOPLES that have enabled thrifty people—young people who need to and have to save every penny—get somewhere. Have you ever seen

PEOPLE FALL IN LOVE

Whys and Wherefores of Falling Love Explained by Dr. H. H. Britain, Professor of Philosophy of Bates College, Me.

Lewiston, Me., March 11.—The whys and wherefores of falling in love, as explained by Dr. Halbert H. Britain, professor of philosophy, to students of Bates College, are quite simple.

"The principal reason why people fall in love is because they are so constituted, both physically and mentally that it is the normal, the natural thing to do," he said. "There are two aspects to the question, the natural susceptibility of the individual and the stimulus that calls forth the mental reaction."

"Awakening of true affection is compared in this professor's love story to the preparing and combustion of high power explosives. "In love, nature has prepared the elements, combined them through countless years, and guarantees the result when some vision of loveliness, some heroic deed or even some insignificant word or act unlocks the stored-up energy of the emotional life."

"There is not one single formula for arousing love. Just as anger or fear, for example, may excite by a wide variety of circumstances and conditions, so love is capable of being awakened by stimuli equally diverse. A beautiful face by no means has the power often assigned to it. It is by no means indispensable nor does it add noticeably to the intensity of affection felt for its owner. In man beauty is almost wholly subordinate to other attractions."

LAND AT AUCTION

Land belonging to the estate of the late W. A. Oxley was sold at auction Saturday afternoon at the court house, Col. Fanning was the auctioneer and L. O. Vaught is attorney for the estate. A tract of timber land was purchased by James Bond for $80 an acre and certain lots in Franklin sold to H. Dahman for $680. These prices were the same as paid at a previous sale, which was set aside because of certain errors in the records. A tract of 14 1-3 acres near Rees Station was purchased by Milford Rees at $150 per acre. This price was considerably less than that paid at the previous sale.

Mrs. Rimbey is a former resident of Morgan county and known to many people here. She said yesterday that the season in Kansas was even more advanced than here, spring work on the farms being quite well along.

WINDOW BACKGROUND IS WORK OF ART

Long Awaited Improvement in Waddell & Company Store Now Nearing Completion.

The window background in the display window of the F. J. Waddell & Co. store is now attracting a vast amount of attention, as well it should. This great display window is 9 feet, 6 inches by 20 feet in its general dimensions and the background, done in American walnut is nine feet in height. It was more than two years ago that Walter Crawford, of the Crawford Lumber Co., drew the plans for the window, but only in recent months was it possible to secure just exactly the wood needed. The panels were only recently secured in St. Louis, after this long period of waiting. Mr. Crawford's idea was to secure wood of exceptional grain and a glance into the window will afford proof of his success.

Also the background is now beautiful indeed, the work is not completed, as several coats of finish must still be applied. In the center of the background French mirrored doors add to the artistic effect, and it is thru these doors that the goods to be displayed are placed in the window.

The floor is no less attractive than the background, as it is of the most beautiful quality of quarter sawed white oak, inlaid with white holly wood and American walnut.

Mr. Waddell and his associate, Mr. Plouger, naturally feel that this was worth waiting for and they realize that the expenditure of more than $600 for this window equipment means dollars well expended. The improvement is a very decided addition to the equipment of this well known and extensive establishment.

EASTERN CRITICS PRAISE MISS SHEPPARD

At a recital given in East Orange, N. J., recently "Revolutionary," a folk song more than 100 years old, arranged by Miss Edna Sheppard of this city and sung by Sergei Radamsky, Russian tenor, was the feature. One New York paper referred to Miss Sheppard as one of the best American accompanists.

Local people know Miss Sheppard as the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Sheppard of Sandusky street and are also familiar with the fact of her marked success in the musical world.

Pittsburg Man Makes Wonderful Statement

Declares Tanlac Enabled His to Eat Better, Sleep Better and Work Better—Has Gained Thirty Pounds

HARRY M. ALLEN
Of Pittsburgh, Pa.

"I consider Tanlac the grandest medicine in the world, for I have actually gained 30 pounds in weight since I began taking it. It has simply filled me with new life and energy and for the first time in years I can sit down to the table and enjoy three square meals a day like other people. In fact Tanlac has made me eat better, feel better, sleep better and work better, and I guess that's all a man can expect of a medicine."

"Before I took Tanlac I was off 25 pounds in weight and was so badly run down I was hardly able to do my work. Nothing seemed to agree with me and my food invariably soured on my stomach. I would always have an uncomfortable bloated up feeling in my stomach, and although I tried many kinds of medicines, I never got relief until I took Tanlac."

"I also suffered considerably at times from rheumatism, but this has all disappeared. In fact, this wonderful medicine has made a new man out of me in every way. I feel years younger and can do as much work as in any day of my life."

"Of course, I am only too glad to give you my testimonial because I want other people who are suffering as I did to take this medicine and get relief."

The above remarkable statement was made by Harry M. Allen, residing at 1009 Saint Martin street, Pittsburgh, Pa., a well known employe of the Oliver Iron & Steel Company of that city. Mr. Allen is a well known member of the United Presbyterian Church and is highly respected by all who know him.

Tanlac is sold in Jacksonville by Coover Drug Co. and J. F. Shreve, Wyle Drug Co., Franklin and Waverly and leading drug store in all cities.—Adv.

AMERICAN FARM BUREAU FEDERATION
Executive Committee to Meet in Washington.

Beginning on April 11, the executive committee of the American Farm Bureau Federation and representatives from the various state farm bureau federations will meet in Washington, D. C., to work out a definite legislative program to present before the coming session of congress. The executive committee, meeting in Chicago on Feb. 17-19, authorized the appointment of a legislative committee of five to shape farm bureau policies at the capital. President J. R. Howard regards the legislative measures to be considered by the sixty-sixth congress as of such vital import to the farmers of America that he believes it desirable for the committee of five to have the counsel and support not only of the entire executive committee of the American Farm Bureau Federation, but as many of the farm bureau representatives as possible. The conference will carefully consider policies of interest to organized agriculture, and also study ways and means of most effectively speaking the farmer's mind with respect to such policies. Each state farm bureau federation will be asked to send at least one representative to the Washington legislative conference. Tariff and Tax Engage Legislative Department.

The legislative department of the American Farm Bureau federation is giving attention to tariff revision and tax distribution. Outstanding questions facing the special session of congress early in April. No one yet seems able to predict with assurance whether there will be a temporary tariff followed by a general revision of all schedules, or no emergency action pending full consideration of the entire problem.

The Washington office warns farmers that widespread influence and publicity are being used to bring about the abandonment of the excess profits tax and surtaxes as soon as possible after congress convenes.

Reorganization of departments along many lines is being discussed by government officials. Some of them have suggested that the department of commerce take over from department of agriculture the bureau of public roads and the bureau of markets. The farmer naturally feels that his interests are considered paramount in the department of agriculture, and he will not favor such a change unless vital reasons for it are advanced.

Grain Marketing Ratification on April 6.

The ratification meeting of the Farmer's Live Stock Marketing committee of seventeen will convene in the LaSalle hotel, Chicago, at 10 a. m. on April 6. The meeting will be the cynosure of the eyes of both producers and consumers the nation over. Secretary of Agriculture H. C. Wallace has been invited to deliver the principal address.

Live Stock Marketing Committee to Meet.

The Farmer's Live Stock Marketing committee will hold its second meeting in Chicago on April 7. Sub-committees will report and definite investigations will be outlined.

Westward Ho!

President J. R. Howard of the American Farm Bureau federation will address the California Farm Bureau federation at the annual meeting in Berkeley on March 18. On March 19, he will speak at noon in San Francisco at a chamber of commerce meeting, and in the evening of the same day will be at Sacramento.

President Howard will address the Washington Farm Bureau federation at its annual meeting in Spokane on March 23. On March 24, the grain growers of Washington, Oregon and Idaho will gather at Spokane to consider the grain marketing plan of the committee of seventeen, and President Howard will appear on the program with W. G. Eckhardt a member of the committee representing the Illinois Agricultural association.

Earthbound

BASIL KING'S powerful story of the unseen world

Featuring Wyndham Standing and Naomi Childers

George Loane Tucker's Statement

"There is a message in 'Earthbound' that the wide world is greatly and deeply interested in. I sincerely hope that everyone who liked my production of 'The Miracle Man' will go to see 'Earthbound.'"

Gertrude Atherton fascinated—

"I was enthralled, not only because the story itself is intensely interesting, but because it is unique. Nothing of the kind has ever been done—a unique idea presented with the most perfecting artistry."

Four lives bound together by a common creed—"No God—no Sin—no Future Life."

Two men and two women torn by the conflict between loyalty and passion.

Then inevitable disaster—and for one of them a headlong plunge to death.

Is the soul swept from earth the moment it is freed from the body? Or does it—earthbound—still share the violent emotions which the living must endure?

Does the personality change with death—how long do the old interests go on?

Is there growth and progression even after the shadowy barrier has been crossed?

Basil King's "Earthbound" is a gripping story of personalities reaching back and forth across this barrier.

It is a subject to which Basil King has devoted years of intense personal study. He brings to this great narrative an intimate knowledge of men and women, of their wants and emotional experiences.

"Earthbound" is a remarkable lifting of the veil that stands between this life and next—a motion picture endowed with a power and human poignancy that can be found in no other form of art.

The year that it has taken in creation began a new era for the screen.

"EARTHBOUND"

Scott's Theatre Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday "Earthbound," from the pen of Basil King, everything that went into the making of the picture from the selection of the cast down to the smallest detail in the settings was judged by the highest standards of art. Perfection was the goal of the producers. Nothing was considered good enough. It had to be the best that genius and human ingenuity could make it before it was accepted. That is why it required a solid year to produce this master picture. But the result justifies all the time and care and money that was spent on it for "Earthbound" stands out as the supreme achievement of the screen.

In making this announcement we feel that no words of praise can do justice to the magnificence and lofty appeal of this master production. Its theme has the awe-inspiring appeal of a glimpse into eternity; in treatment it is majestic, as a work of art, it attains to the height of grandeur. Nothing approaching it has ever been offered to the public. Never has the cinema delivered a more eloquent message. Never has the screen reflected an artistic triumph of more significant proportions.

No one is fully qualified to discuss the merits or shortcomings of the cinema until he has seen "Earthbound." For not until then will you know to what height this newest of the arts has been lifted by this marvelous production, which stands out not only as a masterpiece of art but because it strikes the highest note of originality ever attained on the screen.

You must see "Earthbound."

"No God—no Sin—no Future Life"

COBBLER WAS FRIEND OF THE VICE PRESIDENT

Northampton Cobbler, Counsellor of Coolidge in Younger Days

Northampton, Mass.—James Lucey, mender of shoes, is peering away in his shop here with one eye on the newspapers for word of how the national capital treats Calvin Coolidge, his one-time associate in local politics and now vice-president.

When Vice-President Coolidge last before departing for Washington recently, grasped the cobbler's hand as the photographers snapped their cameras, he gave him a distinction that he was asked to explain. "Put Mr. Lucey down as my guide, philosopher and friend," he said. And so the cobbler is now nationally known.

What the vice-president meant was more or less well known to Northampton folk. The story goes back to the days when Calvin Coolidge was a sophomore at Amherst College. With shoes to be repaired he sought Lucey's shop on Gothic street in this city and then remained to listen to the cobbler's homely comments on the topics of the day.

The student found the shoe maker's philosophy so engaging that during the remainder of his college course he went frequently to see him. As a lawyer later young Coolidge opened offices here and while he waited for clients, continued his acquaintance with the cobbler. Thruout his career in the politics of the city and state, Mr. Coolidge dropped in at the shoe shop from time to time to exchange ideas with his friend and have the benefit of the latter's pointed political observations.

Look Away Many Lessons. The youthful Coolidge took away lessons from the cobbler counsellor. Coolidge the candidate received the benefit of his influence which was considerable in city politics, and when he rose to a position of state and national prominence he still received the loyal support of the shoemaker. Mr. Lucey modestly explaining that Mr. Coolidge long since passed out of his range of influence, admits that he may have been of some help when the vice-president was on the first rung of the political ladder.

The cobbler says that the only time he ever crossed Calvin Coolidge seemed to make firmer the friendship between them. Mr. Coolidge had sought the election of a friend as mayor and asked Mr. Lucey as a delegate to the party caucus to stand in his behalf but the cobbler, already bound to the opposing candidate, refused. This evidence of loyalty to a prior allegiance served to heighten their mutual respect.

The shoemaker, a native of Ireland, came to Northampton 40 years ago at the age of 22. He has been at his last in the same shop for 20 years. A family of eight children, seven of whom are now living has made demands on his earning ability. Five are girls; one is a stenographer, two are teachers, a fourth who was formerly a teacher is now married and one is a clerk. Of the two boys one is a graduate of Holy Cross college, and the other is a student in the Northampton commercial college.

LITTLE CHILD HAS NARROW ESCAPE

Little Girl Struck by Auto Yesterday Afternoon on East Side of Square.

Little Mary Virginia Livingston of Alexander had a very narrow escape yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock, when she was struck by an auto in front of the East Side of the square. The little girl's aunt, Mrs. George Ruble of Alexander, had gone in the store to make some purchases and Mary remained in the auto. However, for some reason she decided to go into the store too and stepped out directly in front of an oncoming car. The driver stopped as quickly as possible, but not before the little girl was thrown under the front axle of the car.

Mrs. Ruble seeing the accident ran out to the auto and was able to extricate the child from under the car. The little girl's ankle was bruised by the wheel and she was also badly frightened. Other than this she was unhurt but the accident was surely a narrow escape.

33rd Division to Hold Reunion and Banquet

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—(By The Associated Press.)—Major General George Bell, Jr., who led the Thirty-third division of Illinois troops in France and who is now commanding officer of the Sixth division of Camp Grant is expected to be the guest of honor at the first annual reunion of the Division here Saturday, April 9. Major General Bell will also be the principal speaker at the first annual banquet.

The commander of the Thirty-third is said to be the only commanding officer who organized his division in this country, trained it, led it to victory in France, and remained with it until it was finally demobilized.

The Division was formed in Houston, Texas, in September, 1917, and sailed for France early in 1918. It returned to the United States in May, 1919.

The Thirty-third Division Association was organized by the officers and men several weeks ago for the mutual welfare of the entire division. Practically every city in Illinois has from one to several former service men who were members. Between 600 and 1,000 are expected to attend the reunion, at which time the organization will be perfected. It proposes to work hand in hand with the American Legion for the best interest of all ex-service men.

Major M. B. FORMER MAYOR WRITES HISTORY OF CAIRO

Says Cairo, in Its Present Prosperity, May Well Laugh at Charles Dickens' Perverse Opinion of It.

CAIRO, Ill., March 19.—Secure from the sweep of two great rivers and healthiest of many communities of Illinois, this city of Cairo, in its present prosperity, may well laugh at Charles Dickens' perverse opinion of it.

Not only Cairo, which bore the brunt of the great novelist's displeasure, and Belleville, Ill., but all of the United States west of Baltimore, suffered from Dickens' unkind pen.

"Shivers and caricatures," is about all Dickens had for the interior of this country. So says Judge John M. Landsen, author of "A History of Cairo," and former mayor of this city, who has taken up the cudgels against Dickens' "American Notes" to redeem, if it needs it, the reputation of Cairo.

"It is safe to say," Judge Landsen writes the Associated Press, "that after Dickens left Baltimore and turned westward, he never stated any thing correctly about this country. He understated it or overstated it, always choosing that which would sound worst."

Dickens' trip to this country was in 1842. Before his visit to "Merika" and the "Merrikans," as he puts it, he announced he would "blow 'em up enough to pay all his expenses and more," but on leaving again for England, he wrote he "would not spare the country when he got home."

Until lately it was believed in part of Illinois that Dickens' animus was due to an unfortunate investment in Cairo bonds, for it had been represented in England by its promoters when these bonds were sold, that the conjunction of the Ohio and Mississippi river assured a commercial metropolis, such as has developed on Lake Michigan. A million and a quarter dollars of English money was invested and it has been written that Dickens also risked the bulk of his small fortune.

Positive denial of this explanation has just been made by Judge Landsen, as a result of his research. "Dickens," he says, "never bought or owned Cairo bonds either before or after his visit here. However, all who did invest, lost, but not through Cairo's fault, he said, but by the failure of the London banking firm."

It was another financial reason that was the mainspring of Dickens' "American Notes." He came to this country to persuade publishers to observe the copyright on his books, but found them obtuse. He got no satisfaction. He saw American publishers growing rich on his books, while their author was getting nothing. His feelings were not disguised. Letters of eloquent protest preceded him back to England, and then the "Notes" appeared.

"Dismal Cairo," he wrote, after a stay of less than two hours in this city. "A place without one single quality, in earth or air or water to commend it; a breeding place of fever and death; vaunted in England as a mine of golden hope and speculated in on the faith of monstrous representations, to many people's ruin."

Fully as unreliable was his picture of Belleville. It was, he wrote, "a small collection of wooden houses, huddled together in the very heart of the bush and swamp." This description of Belleville provoked action by two champions of that town, as is shown by the last will of the then lieutenant governor of Illinois, William Kinney, who lived in Belleville.

"I give," read one part of the will probated in St. Clair county in 1843; "I give R. K. Fleming, in consideration of his writing for me a pamphlet against Charles Dickens, one hundred dollars in cash."

Treats of not warrant Dickens' facts of either of these places, Judge Landsen says. "Cairo was and still is," the Judge writes, "a prosperous business city of good sanitary condition and if not the very best, at least of far better health than most cities of the state."

Annual seasons of excessive water see the land east, south and west of Cairo submerged, but Cairo throughout it all retains her dryness, a place of refuge for other river dwellers. Even in the excessive high waters of 1912 and 1913, Cairo was perfectly dry and in no way inconvenienced.

"Our magnificent system of levees and concrete sea walls protect us absolutely from any stage of the rivers," according to W. F. Vanderburgh, of the Cairo Association of Commerce, "and our pumping service, with capacity of two and one-half million gallons per hour, keep our low spots free from any accumulation of silt or rain water."

"Owing to our strategic location, with reference to distribution of products," Mr. Vanderburgh added, "and the accumulation of raw materials for manufacture, Cairo is growing rapidly in manufacturing and distribution, transportation facilities by way of five railroad trunk lines, water service on both Ohio and Mississippi rivers, and Cairo's situation at the head of all-year navigation on the Mississippi river, give the city a very attractive freight rate situation."

This, augmented by the vast coal fields of Southern Illinois, is a further attraction of Cairo."

Other protests against "American Notes" have appeared in the past, particularly one "English Notes," by Charles Quickens, which has lately been definitely ascribed to Edgar Allan Poe. It is an extremely satirical attempt to pay Dickens "tit for tat."

Something in the nature of amends for the "American Notes" was also seen in the visit paid in 1911, by Charles Dickens' son, Alfred Tennyson Dickens, who lectured both in Cairo and Belleville, and voiced far different opinions from that of his illustrious father.

EVANSTON WOMAN'S CLUB GROWS RAPIDLY

Membership Grows From 37 in 1899, to 900 Today—Owns Valuable Club House.

(By The Associated Press)

EVANSTON, Ill., March 19.—Illustration of the rapid development of the woman's club movement in Illinois is given in the growth of the Woman's Club of Evanston. It announced today that its membership, starting in 1899 with 37, had reached 900.

Starting as a study club, the society today owns a club house on one of the main streets of this city, erected in 1911, at a cost of $75,000. The debt remaining on the property is only $8,000, while the club owns also the vacant lot adjoining.

Help is extended by the Woman's club to both the working girls of the city and the girls of the city and its younger women. The Young Women's Auxiliary to the club, composed of young women of Evanston between the ages of 18 and 30, has reached a membership of 200, the announcement states. They have the use of the club house for their program and social events.

The Girls' League, an organization of the working girls of Evanston, is given free use of a house on the woman's club owns at the rear of its own home.

Ten per cent of the club's income from dues and initiation fees is donated to various philanthropic organizations of Evanston and Chicago, further following out the club's purpose. "Mutual helpfulness in all affairs of life, and united effort toward the higher development of humanity."

The club house is often thrown open to the public, the report states for events or programs of general interest.

Mrs. G. W. Kaufmann is president. Mrs. George R. Brown, Jr., recording secretary. Mrs. Luke L. Wilson, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Edward L. Middleton treasurer.

COLLEGE OF MUSIC NOTES

Last week Director Pearson secured a very fine string contrabass for the orchestra. It is the policy of the department to add something to the equipment of the orchestra every year; last year a pair of tympani were purchased, this year the contrabass was added, and next year oboe and bassoon will probably be secured, as these instruments are essentially ensemble instruments and seldom owned by individuals.

Miss Mildred Mayer, pupil of Miss Miller, accompanied by Grace Styles, sang at the meeting of the Teachers' Training class at the Central Christian church Wednesday evening.

The program for the Vesper service which will be given Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock at Music Hall appears elsewhere in this issue.

Miss Beatrice Horsburgh entertained the junior members of her violin class and their mothers to tea at her home last Saturday afternoon. A short program was played for the guests by the following young violinists: Masters Verne Fiedler, August Ulrich and Willard Gody, and Miss Ada Galley.

Miss Grace Terhune, pupil of Mrs. Forrest, gave a vocal solo at the Baptist church last Sunday afternoon.

Easter vacation for the College of Music will extend from Friday, March 25 to Tuesday, March 29.

Miss Beatrice Horsburgh, assisted by Miss Sapiro, accompanist, has been active in playing in out-of-town schools the past week. Wednesday afternoon they gave a program at Virginia and Thursday at Winchester. At both places they played in the High School auditorium to the faculty, high school students and invited guests, including musical people and club women of the towns.

The following program was given in Music Hall Thursday afternoon, March 17, at the regular informal pupils' recital:

Are Weak Nerves and Thin Blood Making a Failure Out of You?

Iron starvation of the blood weakens the will power, robs you of your bodily and mental vigor and often keeps you from making the money and success you should

THERE ARE 30,000,000,000,000 RED BLOOD CORPUSCLES IN YOU BLOOD AND EACH ONE MUST HAVE IRON.

When your blood is thin, pale and watery it loses its power to change food into living tissue, and NOTHING YOU EAT DOES YOU THE PROPER AMOUNT OF GOOD—you don't get the full strength out of it, and as a consequence you become weak, nervous, irritable and easily upset.

Also YOUR BRAIN BECOMES DULL AND HEAVY, your memory poor, your will power weakened; you can't think right and you are no match for the fellow with, a keen active powerful mind.

It's the "man of blood and iron"—THE STRONG, FORCEFUL, VIGOROUS FELLOWS that make the money and become the great captains of industry

When you get up feeling tired in the morning, when you can no longer do your work without being all fagged out at night; when your digestion all goes wrong, or you have pains across the back and your face looks pale and drawn, do not wait until you are all to pieces and collapse in a state of nervous prostration, or until in your weakened condition you contract some serious disease, consult your family physician and have him take a specimen of your blood and make a "blood count" of your red blood corpuscles, and see how much your condition improves. Thousands of people have surprisingly increased their strength, energy and endurance in two weeks time by this simple experiment. But in making this test be sure that the iron you take is organic iron and not metallic mineral iron which people usually take. Organic iron is like the iron in your blood as like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples, while metallic iron is iron just as it comes from the action of strong acids on small pieces of iron. Organic iron may be had from your drug under the name of NUXATED IRON. I warn of substitutes, look for the letters N. on every tablet. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturer if you do not obtain perfectly satisfactory results. At all drugists, like Nuxated Iron with them for a while

With nearly one-fifth of the women being paid less than $9 a week and over one-half less than $12 a week, the industries of Kansas are far behind, not only the high standards of other states, which have made $13, $15 and even $18 the minimum weekly wage for their women workers, but they are behind even the low standard of Kansas itself, which has accepted $11 as a sufficient weekly minimum for its women in industry.

ATHLETIC EXHIBITION

The boys' class in physical training, under the direction of Miss Solberger, gave an entertainment last night to an audience that filled the auditorium at the School for the Deaf.

Most of the numbers were given with musical accompaniment, with Miss Florence Loar at the piano.

All the classes showed improvement in form over the entertainment given a year ago, their sense of rhythm seeming remarkable.

This is the kind of entertainment where everyone in the audience feels thoroughly qualified to act as judge, and frequent bursts of laughter showed they were keenly alive to mistakes and failures. It was evident that most of the mistakes were the premeditated efforts of ambitious young clowns or used for effect.

The frequent applause showed the audience was keenly appreciative of the fine points in form and execution.

The Dumbell drill introduced several new features. The Sailors' hornpipe, the Sword dance and the Highland Fling, in costume, were specially attractive numbers.

The entertainment closed with a fine exhibition of club swinging by the older boys, with a solo part by Miss Solberger, using illuminated clubs. The program, as published in the Journal Saturday morning, was carried out.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE NOTES

The members of the freshmen debating teams were assisted in their preparation for the debate by Hugh Green and Professor Francis I. Moats. Mr. Green helped to coach the negative team, while Professor Moats gave special attention to the affirmative.

The State Conference of the Student Volunteers is being held this week at Hedding college, Abingdon, Ill. The following student from Illinois college are in attendance: Elmer Nichol, Ruby Mann, Helen Steers and Winifred Butcher.

The Easter vacation will begin next Friday morning and continue until Monday noon. Next year the schedule involves a full week for the Easter vacation.

The students of the college are planning to form discussion groups to carry on a study of world problems, following the lines of thought suggested by J. Stitt Wilson in his addresses given during the past week. The problems to be considered are the following: Inter-Racial, International, Economic and Social, Spiritual and Personal.

Miss Isabel S. Smith, professor of biology, who has been ill at Passavant hospital, has returned to her home and her friends will be glad to know that she is improving.

The students are enthusiastic over the final decision of the student body to have a baseball team this spring. The schedule of games has not yet been arranged.

The annual debate between Sigma Pi and Phi Alpha is being planned. The final date for the debate has not been decided, but they are expecting to hold it about the first week in April.

J. Wilson Akers, '20, was a visitor on the campus Friday and Saturday.

"THE MIKADO" COMES

NEXT SATURDAY
Al Wilson, noted as a dramatic critic in Memphis, Tennessee, where he represents the News-Scimitar, says a lot of nice things about Ralph Dunbar's production of the comic opera, "The Mikado" which will be the attraction at the Grand, Saturday, March 26th.

"Dunbar has assembled a cast that fits admirably into the opera," writes Wilson. "Principals and chorus can and do sing and dance and they know decidedly the meaning of stage pictures. A distinctive feature is the harmony work in the ensemble. I do not know when I have enjoyed such an evening at the theatre."

The Dunbar presentation here will be the same as given in Memphis, with cast, chorus, lighting effects, costuming and scenery intact. Dunbar is a wizard producer, he gives the public the worth of its money with no thought of his own pecuniary benefits.

GRADUATE PRACTIPEDIST

Gives below an interesting account of the "Perfect Foot Contest," held recently in Chicago.

"During the week of February 25th to March 6th, inclusive, a unique exhibition, known as the 'Beauty Mart,' was staged at the Coliseum, in Chicago. Its purpose was the displaying of cosmetics and all sorts of beauty appliances and aids.

"In conjunction with that exhibition, various beauty contests were held, but the one which attracted by far the greatest interest and attention was the Prettiest Foot Contest, wherein prizes were offered to the girls and women having the most beautiful or most nearly perfect feet. Dr. Wm. Scholl, recognized specialist and authority on the human foot, was selected to act as judge in the contest.

Twelve Thousand Feet in Contest

"More than 6,000 girls and women entered their feet in this contest, and the task of selecting the first, second and third best as winners of the prizes was no light one, as can readily be imagined. Dr. Scholl went about it, however, in a most methodical manner, first taking pedographs of the feet of all contestants and then through a process of elimination, reducing the number to be further examined to about two hundred. The pedograph impression of the foot shows its size, the condition of each of the arches, the conformation of the toes, the carriage of the foot, its strength and general condition. Therefore, by eliminating all entrants whose pedographs showed deficiencies in any of these respects, the number left to consider was most materially reduced.

"The 200 contestants who withstood the pedograph tests were caused to appear in person at the opening of the Beauty Mart and to submit to rigid examinations by Dr. Scholl. This had the result of further decreasing the possible prize winners to about 25, and those gathered at the Beauty Mart on the evening of Wednesday, March 2nd, for their final examination.

All But Perfect

"When the awards were announced, shortly after the end of the public examination that evening, it was found that Miss Elizabeth Chapman of 207 S. Spaulding avenue, Chicago, a girl of 22, had won the first prize. The second prize went to Miss Ruth Donahue of Peoria, Illinois, and the third to Miss Dorothy West of 928 Addison street, Chicago.

"Miss Chapman, the winner of the first prize, has feet that are all but perfect, according to Dr. Scholl. He says that there is probably no such thing as absolute perfection in any human foot in the present stage of our civilization, but that the feet of Miss Chapman very closely approach the ideal. Her toes are as straight and supple as those of a young child and the arches, both across the metatarsals and longitudinally of the foot, are high and springy. She wears a 5B shoe, with high French heels and laughs at the teachings of those who profess to believe that high heels are cause of foot ailments and broken health. She is 5 feet, 5 1/4 inches tall and weighs 116 pounds.

Special Foot Bath

"Miss Chapman attributes her good feet to plenty of good exercise for them, to never having tried to force them into shoes too small for them and to giving them the same care that she does her face. She is not a professional dancer, but is fond of toe dancing and practices daily the steps of the ballet. Besides this, she gives her feet a special bath daily, using a specially prepared soap of somewhat coarse grain in powder form for thoroughly clearing the multitude of pores of the feet. Then she gives them a vigorous massage, using a special cream prepared for that purpose, and ends up by dusting them with an antiseptic foot powder. She maintains that this does not take very much time and that the results in comfort and benefit are more than worth the trouble."

J. Lloyd Read, a graduate Practipedist and an expert in all forms of Foot Troubles, is located at the Hopper Shoe Store. Let him tell you what is needed to correct any foot trouble you may be experiencing. There is no charge.

SEPARATORLESS TRADE MARK ELECTROLYTE STORAGE BATTERY

NO Separators Runious Sulphation
95% of All Battery Troubles Eliminated in The Electrolyte

By eliminating separators from the ELECTROLYTE Battery the distress parts of a battery are left out. All wooden separators become soft and pulpy after being in the solution and allow the plates to pine through. When the plates touch the battery is dead. To restore a battery which has become dead through punky, pulpy separators necessitates re-insulation or reconstruction. This costs $5.00 to $20.00, depending upon the type of battery. This last improvement and most important achievement in Storage Battery manufacture is fully protected by patents

CONSTRUCTION

The ELECTROLYTE Storage Battery is a standard type of lead acid storage battery, with the addition that they entirely eliminate the wood separators or any separators covering the whole plate. The patented feature of the ELECTROLYTE is a hard wooden strip or choke embedded in the grooves in plates to prevent buckling as well as insulation. This form of assembly and omitting a separator covering the whole plate you can readily see will give a great momentary discharge on account of no internal resistance. While the battery will discharge freely if recharged, it is just as readily charged or recharged. On a short circuit test it will discharge up to 2400 amperes momentarily. This is 8 to 10 times greater than any other battery of like type and size on the market. Also the ELECTROLYTE has a hard wood case coated with acid resisting varnish. It is sold on an eighteen months guarantee, not on the ordinary adjustment plan.

FORMER JACKSONVILLE GIRL GETS SCHOLARSHIP

The friends of Rev. and Mrs. O. G. Gary of Natick, Mass., who formerly lived in Jacksonville will be interested in news which recently reached friends in the city. Their daughter, Miss Helen Alma Gary who graduates from Wellesley this spring, has been awarded the Durant scholarship, which is the highest honor which Wellesley bestows upon her graduates.

Miss Gary is the niece of Judge Elbert H. Gary of New York, and it is needless to say that both he and the young ladies' family are justly proud of the honor which she has won. Miss Gary expects to sail for South America in August under the direction of the Mission board of the Methodist church.

Lloyd Cox was a representative from Orleans Saturday.

ILLINOIS WOMAN'S COLLEGE NOTES

One of the most delightful events of the year was the reading given by Miss Powell Thursday evening, the 17th. Her interpretation of the "Melting Pot" by Zangwill was admirably presented. In spite of the many other attractions of the evening over four hundred people were present to hear this artist of Jacksonville.

President Harker is in Chicago attending a meeting of the North Central association. This organization has to do with college ratings and is one of the most influential in the United States.

Professor S. H. Clark, who is director of the department of Public Speaking at the University of Chicago, will read at the college Friday afternoon and evening, April the first. His afternoon reading will be "King Lear", and in the evening "Androcles and the Lion". Professor Clark was here in the fall and read for the Woman's club. His work was greatly enjoyed at that time, and many expressed a desire to hear him again, so arrangements were made which makes this possible.

Through the courtesy of Mr. Pence, the State Y. M. C. A. secretary who has been visiting Illinois College during the past week, we had two very fine lectures from Mr. Wilson, mayor for several years past of Berkeley, California, and who is now under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. delivering a series of lectures at the American Colleges.

The Junior-Senior party will be given in the Gymnasium this evening. A full account of this party will appear in another column of the paper.

The family must meet the expense of hauling the stone from that point to the cemetery and the erection.
